Creating or supporting evil/immorality weighs you down; heavy-heart, being heavier than the feather of Moral Truth.

The "heart" is viewed as the fountain of man's deeds, the driving motivational source of will and actions.

Future (after) life rewards/consequences are based on past life actions. Put to death what fails to align with ma'at.

Did you take in moral truth? Did you align, harmonize and equalize to it (1:1)? Then you're in equilibrium/balance with moral truth (ma'at). Your individual core (heart)/essence has welcomed the universal essence of moral truth (ma'at). You have True Care, caring for moral truth, leading to moral actions; you're in equilibrium with moral truth.

Karma is action/deed. What happens as a result of your actions? Are you serving good or evil? Live by moral truth (ma'at) and uphold the positive side of justice, or go against morality and get negative justice by creating evil.

RECIPROCITY/BALANCE

TWO PILLARS OF BALANCE: THE GOOD OR THE EVIL
LIVE BY MORAL TRUTH, OR FACE NEGATIVE CONSEQUENCES

POSITIVE POTENTIAL (MAAT)

If you want to be treated by others a certain way, then treat them that way. (benefit ideally, or harm)

NEGATIVE POTENTIAL (ISFET)

If you don't want to be treated by others a certain way, then don't treat them that way.

a.k.a. The Golden Rule, The Law of Attraction, Karma, Behavioral Cause and Effect, "Reap what you sow", Give to get

If you respect the rights of others, then you get your rights respected. If you don't respect their rights, then you don't get yours respected. If you violate rights then you nullify your own right to be free from harm in consequence. At an individual level, reciprocity as the law of attraction is a potential. You're not guaranteed to receive (reflect back to you) the same positive or negative you put out. But in the aggregate, the majority of behavior reflects back as the condition we live (LoF).
